

EPISCOPALIAN JEWS TO RETAIN CUSTOMS

House of Deputies Rules They May Have Their Racial Feasts.

NO SEATS FOR WOMEN

Campaign to Aid Unemployable Urged by Dr. Stires of New York.

St. Louis, Oct. 23.—Jews who have accepted Jesus Christ as the Messiah and have become communicants of the Protestant Episcopal Church, may retain, if they desire, the Jewish custom and feast, according to a ruling of the House of Deputies of the General Convention in session here today.

This action was based on a resolution that had been presented by the Rev. Fred W. Tompkins of Philadelphia. It was asserted that there are in the United States hundreds of Jews who have accepted Christ and yet have hesitated to affiliate with Christian denominations because they do not care to abandon their racial customs.

Efforts to have women permitted to sit at delegates in the House of Deputies of the General Convention were abandoned today, when on the heels of a rejection at the hands of the House of Deputies a lower house committee adversely reported the proposal.

Diocesan Representation.
The House of Deputies refused, by a 20-10 vote, to adopt the recommendation of a special committee proposing the present system of equal diocesan representation in the House of Deputies be changed to one of proportionate representation. Several hours of debate preceded the vote, which, in the end, was 20 to 10, with five dioceses divided, and in the lay order, 19 to 10, with four dioceses divided.

The lower house refused to confer with the House of Bishops in its action giving a seat and vote in the upper house to suffragan bishops. Concurrent action was necessary. At present suffragans have a seat but no vote. However, the lower house adopted a resolution providing for a constitutional amendment allowing suffragans to substitute in the event of the death or disability of the bishop.

The House of Bishops today rejected a proposal to open their sessions, which have been held behind closed doors since the last triennial convention in 1878, to the public.

Problem of Unemployable.
Members of the United States should give more consideration to the problem of the unemployable, the Rev. Dr. James M. Stires, rector of St. Thomas Church, New York, said in an address before the House of Deputies of the General Convention today.

Dr. Stires distinguished between the unemployable, "those able to do the work of the community," and the "unemployable, those who would work but are incapacitated by physical or mental infirmities." He urged that the unemployable be given more consideration.

He said that the unemployable are not only a burden to the community, but they are also a source of danger. He urged that the unemployable be given more consideration.

Important board of the church, was confirmed in the House of Deputies today. It was previously rejected by the House of Bishops.

The opposition, according to statements made on the floor of the house, intended as a protest against the action of the board of the House of Bishops.

Several days ago, at a joint session of the two houses of the convention, the Right Rev. A. C. Hall, Bishop of Vermont, said that in his opinion the salary of the president of the Board of Missions, $9,500 annually, was too high. No action, however, will be taken in that connection.

Rejection of George Gordon King of New York, as treasurer of the Board of Missions and the election of the members by the House of Bishops also was confirmed in the lower house.

A step looking toward the eventual change of the name of the church, "to be more nearly in accord with its apostolic origin," was proposed in a resolution offered in the House of Deputies by the Rev. Martin Aigner of Franklin, Pa.

This resolution, which was referred to the committee on general resolutions, substituted the words "of the Holy Catholic Church" on the title page of the prayer book for the words "of the Church."

Leaders of the convention asserted that since the church is named in its constitution "the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America," the proposed substitution could have no effect on the church title. Earlier declarations that there probably would be no attempt in this convention to change the church name were reiterated.

The convention today took cognizance of the fifty years of service of the Right Rev. S. Tuttle of St. Louis, presiding Bishop of the church, who has been in the ministry for more than thirty years. At a joint session of the two houses the Right Rev. Davis Sessum, Bishop of Louisiana, paid tribute to the work of Bishop Tuttle, especially during his earlier days in the missionary fields of Montana, Idaho and Utah.

Announcement of the appointment of a standing committee on general resolutions, headed by the Right Rev. Edwin S. Lines, Bishop of Newark, was made today by the House of Bishops. The appointment, according to leaders of the church, in effect marks the approval of the upper house of the sense of social responsibility and social sympathy which has manifested itself at this convention.

This year, for the first time, the Right Rev. Paul Jones, Bishop of Utah and a member of the newly created committee, pointed out today that the convention has held a daily social forum at which the attitude of the church toward the social welfare of "the masses" has been discussed openly.

CARL STRAKOSCH DIES SUDDENLY

Husband and Manager of Clara
Louise Kellogg Heart Disease Victim.

HARTFORD, Oct. 23.—Carl Strakosch, husband and manager of Clara Louise Kellogg, the opera singer who died in New Hartford several months ago, was found dead in bed at the Heublin Hotel today.

He was in good health Sunday and had planned a motor trip for today. He called his adopted daughter, Miss Claire Strakosch, about 7 o'clock, but before the arrival of the physician she summoned the imprecario had died. The medical examiner later gave heart disease as the cause of death.

Mr. Strakosch was born in Vienna April 16, 1860, a member of a famous musical family, and after being her manager for several years married Clara Louise Kellogg in 1887. He and his adopted daughter had made arrangements to spend the coming winter in New York.

The body will lie from 1 to 4 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon in the great hall of the Immaculate Conception in New Hartford. The funeral mass will be on Thursday. Burial will be in the New Hartford Catholic Cemetery.

SIR JOSEPH BEECHAM, BART.
Son and Successor of Founder of Great Pill Industry.

LONDON, Oct. 23.—Sir Joseph Beecham, Bart., manufacturer of patent medicines, is dead. He was found lifeless in bed at his home at Hampton.

Sir Joseph Beecham, well known as a medicine manufacturer and philanthropist, was born June 18, 1848. He was the son of the late Thomas Beecham of Southampton, Lancashire, and founded great pill manufacturing in Europe and the United States.

Sir Joseph was created a knight in 1911 and was elevated to a baronetcy in 1914. He was also a knight of the Russian Order of St. Stanislaw. He was the proprietor of the Aldwych Theatre in London and was three times Mayor of St. Helens.

In 1873 Sir Joseph married Josephine, daughter of William Burnett of London. They had two sons and five daughters. The eldest son and heir, Sir Thomas Beecham, is a composer, conductor, composer and impresario, whose wife is Uta C. Welles, a daughter of Dr. Stuart Welles of New York, a descendant of John C. Welles, who was one of the Puritan Fathers.

Although he started life as a farm boy, Sir Joseph's fortune, estimated at $10,000,000, is one of the greatest in England. Two years ago he bought the great Covent Garden property, comprising nineteen acres in the heart of London, paying the Duke of Bedford £2,000,000 for it. The property embraces twenty-five streets and the famous Covent Garden Opera House.

He died after that he had transferred his interest.
